

Authentic youth-adult partnerships in learning, teaching, and school leadership are equitable, respectful, trusting, cross-generational relationships characterized by shared power, voice, and responsibility.